

STEFFEN THERKEL STEENSBAEK

Mr. Steffen Th. Steensbaek is currently the Regional Manager – Supply Chain Management, Maersk Logistics Middle East

He has been with Maersk Logistics since 2001 and the A.P. Moller - Maersk Group since 1990. His background is finance and he has apart from a number of years within corporate accounting held roles as CFO for the Maersk Indonesia group of companies and Maersk Logistics Nordic.

Mr. Steffen Th. Steensbaek has been in the role of Middle East Supply Chain Manager since May 1st, 2008, with the aim of developing integrated logistics solutions which create tangible value to current and future Middle East customers.

Mr. Steffen Th. Steensbaek has prior to this role been heading-up the Maersk Logistics Oceania Supply Chain Development team since October, 2006. During this period he has worked with the end-to-end supply chain optimization for major global brands such as Coke, Mars, Fonterra, Puma, Kraft, Nestle, Electrolux and a number of local companies.

Prior to this role Mr. Steffen Th. Steensbaek was part of the supply chain development team at the Maersk Logistics head-office in Copenhagen, Denmark, with supply chain innovation and internal training as some of the responsibilities.

Mr. Steffen Th. Steensbaek has had a number of overseas postings in Dubai, Sydney, Hamburg, Gothenburg, and Jakarta.

Academic Background:

Mr. Steffen Th. Steensbaek has earned a bachelor degree from Copenhagen Business School in management accounting, and received management as well as specialist logistics training from Insead, Ohio State University, and Cranfield School of Management.